Pricing Guide

These are suggested starting rates. Ashley sets the final numbers. The logic behind them is laid out so she can adjust confidently.

The market (Pittsburgh area, 2026)

Reference point	Typical range	What it tells us
Employee admin assistant / receptionist wage, Pittsburgh metro	~$18– 24/hr	What the business pays its own staff, before payroll tax, benefits, PTO and hiring costs (usually +25–40%)
Temp agency bill rate for admin / reception (what the business pays the agency)	~$28– 40/hr	Her direct competitor. The agency keeps a large share of this
Freelance virtual / personal assistants	~$30– 50/hr	Independent, flexible help commands a premium

Positioning: priced at or slightly below a temp agency, with no agency contract, no minimum week and a person they know by name. Businesses win on cost, and Ashley earns far more than an agency temp would pay her.

Recommended rates

Service	Rate	Notes
Business / office / school help	$35/hr	3-hour minimum per visit ($105)
Full day (up to 8 hrs on site)	$260/day	~7% savings vs. hourly. Encourages bigger bookings
Week block (5 full days)	$1,200/week	For leave coverage and vacancies
Personal assistant / household (individuals)	$32/hr	2-hour minimum. Organizing, errands, appointments, paperwork
Same-day call-off coverage	+$10/hr	Booked with less than 24 hours' notice. You're paying for the rescue
Special projects	Flat quote	Estimate the hours × $35, add 15% buffer. Clients love a fixed price
Errand mileage	IRS rate (76¢/mile for July–Dec 2026)	Only for driving during a job (errands, supply runs), not the commute to the client
Nonprofits, churches, schools	10% off	Optional goodwill discount. These are great referral sources

"Backup on Call" plan (month 3+): for a favorite client, $150/month retainer guarantees first priority for call-offs and includes 4 hours; extra hours at $35. It smooths out income and makes her the automatic first call.

What she actually keeps

Self-employed people pay both halves of Social Security and Medicare, so a good rule of thumb is to set aside 25–30% of every payment for taxes (details in the Business Setup Checklist).

Billable hours / week	Weekly revenue @ $35	Yearly (48 weeks)	Set aside ~28%	Take-home (approx.)
15	$525	$25,200	$7,056	~$18,100
25	$875	$42,000	$11,760	~$30,200
32	$1,120	$53,760	$15,050	~$38,700

Before business expenses (insurance, phone, marketing, mileage), which are mostly tax-deductible. Actual tax depends on her whole household situation, so confirm with a tax preparer.

Why not charge $22/hr like an employee wage? Because as a business she covers her own taxes, has no paid time off, no benefits, no guaranteed hours and unbilled time spent marketing and driving. $35 as a business ≈ $22–25 as an employee. Undercharging is the #1 reason new service businesses fail.

Raising prices

- Review rates every January. A $2–3/hr increase per year is normal.
- When she's regularly turning work away, raise rates for new clients first.
- Give existing clients 30 days' notice of any change.

Getting paid

- Invoice weekly, or at job end for short jobs. Payment due within 15 days (businesses) or on completion (individuals).
- Accept: check, Venmo Business, Zelle, or card through Square / PayPal invoices (card fees are ~3%, so build that into pricing or add a small card fee).
- Free invoicing: Wave, Square Invoices, or the free tier of QuickBooks Solopreneur alternatives. A Google Sheets template works fine at first.
- Keep a simple log of date · client · hours · amount · paid date for every job. It makes taxes easy.

Your Backup Plan: Ready-to-Post Copy

Everything below is ready to copy and paste. Edit anything that doesn't sound like Ashley. Post the flyer image (the flyer) with each one unless noted.

1. Facebook business page setup

Page name: Your Backup Plan Username: @YourBackupPlan Category: Administrative Services (add: Personal Assistant, Event Planner) Service area: South Hills of Pittsburgh, Washington County, PA (leave the street address hidden) Button: "Call Now" → 412-401-3208, or "Send Message"

Intro / bio (101 characters max):

Flexible, reliable help for businesses, schools & busy people. South Hills of Pgh & Washington County. ♥

About (longer):

Your Backup Plan is a flexible helping-hand service for local businesses, organizations, schools and busy individuals who need a reliable extra set of hands but don't need another full-time employee.

Someone called off? An employee is out for a week? A project keeps getting pushed aside? I can step in for a few hours, a day, a week or a special project: office and administrative support, phones and reception, data entry and filing, inventory and organizing, school office coverage, event help, retail coverage and personal-assistant tasks.

No long-term commitment. No complicated process. Just reliable help when you need it.

Hi, I'm Ashley. I'd love to be Your Backup Plan. ♥ ☎ 412-401-3208 · ✉ yourbackupplan.ashley@gmail.com

2. Ashley's personal launch post (already written by Ashley)

Her own post is great. Post it from her personal profile (friends and family share personal posts far more than business pages), then share it to the business page. Two small changes help:

1. Add the flyer as the image.
2. Add this last line: "Save my number: 412-401-3208, and follow @YourBackupPlan on Facebook!"

3. Business page first post (pin to top)

✨ Hi, I'm Ashley, and I'd love to be Your Backup Plan. ✨

I left my job at the high school without a Plan B... and found my Plan A: helping local businesses, schools, organizations and busy people get things done.

✓ Someone called off? ✓ An employee is out for a few days or weeks? ✓ A project keeps getting pushed to the bottom of the list? ✓ You need help, but not another full-time employee?

That's where I come in. A few hours, a day, a week or a special project. 💡

Please share. You never know who needs an extra set of hands! ❤️

4. Google Business Profile

Free, and it's how people who search "temporary office help near me" find her. Set up at business.google.com as a service-area business (hides her home address).

Business name: Your Backup Plan (only the real name; adding keywords breaks Google's rules and can get the listing suspended) Primary category: Administrative Services. Secondary: Personal Assistant Service, Event Planner, Office Services Service areas: Bethel Park, Mt. Lebanon, Upper St. Clair, South Park Township, Peters Township, Canonsburg, Bridgeville, Castle Shannon, Whitehall, Baldwin, Pleasant Hills, Jefferson Hills, McMurray, Washington PA, South Fayette

Description (750 characters max):

Your Backup Plan provides flexible, temporary help for local businesses, schools, organizations and busy individuals in the South Hills of Pittsburgh and Washington County. When someone calls off, an employee is out, or a project keeps getting pushed aside, Ashley can step in for a few hours, a day, a week or a special project. Services include office and administrative support, phones and reception, scheduling and customer service, data entry, filing and records, inventory and organizing, school office support, event help, retail coverage and personal-assistant tasks. No long-term commitment and no hiring paperwork. Just reliable, professional help when you need it. Call or text 412-401-3208.

Services to list: each of the 8 services on the flyer. First Google post: reuse post #3. Tip: reviews drive Google ranking more than anything else. Ask every happy client (see the Outreach Scripts section, review request).

Outreach Scripts

Social posts bring in friends of friends. Direct outreach brings in the steady clients. The best early targets are businesses where one person being out stops things from running:

- Small offices: dentists, chiropractors, vets, insurance agents, real estate offices, law and accounting firms (tax season!), property managers
- Schools: main offices, athletic departments, PTOs, private and parochial schools, preschools
- Churches and nonprofits: events, mailings, office coverage
- Local retail and boutiques: holiday rush, inventory counts
- Small contractors and trades: the owner's spouse usually runs the office alone
- Busy families and seniors: organizing, errands, appointments, paperwork

Start with people she already knows: former colleagues, parents from school, her own dentist and insurance agent.

1. Introduction email to a business

Subject: A local backup for when someone's out

Hi [Name],

My name is Ashley Harris. I live in [town] and recently started Your Backup Plan, a flexible helping-hand service for local businesses in the South Hills and Washington County.

When someone calls off, an employee is out for a few days or weeks, or a project keeps getting pushed aside, I can step in for a few hours, a day, a week or a project. That includes front desk and phones, scheduling, data entry, filing, organizing, inventory and event help. There's no agency markup, no hiring paperwork and no long-term commitment.

I'd love to be the person you call the next time you're short-handed. I've attached my flyer. Could I stop by for five minutes to introduce myself, or would it be easier to just keep my number on file?

Thank you! Ashley Harris Your Backup Plan 412-401-3208 · yourbackupplan.ashley@gmail.com

2. Email to a school or district office

Subject: Office coverage help, from a former school staff member

Hi [Name],

I recently left my position at [school] and have started Your Backup Plan, providing flexible, short-term help for schools and offices in the South Hills and Washington County.

I know how quickly a school office falls behind when someone is out, and how busy registration, testing, picture day, events and the start and end of the year get. I'm comfortable with the front desk, attendance, phones, parents and students, and I can provide current PA clearances.

If you ever need a reliable extra set of hands for a day, a week or an event, I'd love to help. My flyer is attached.

Thank you, Ashley Harris · 412-401-3208

Note: many districts can only pay outside help through a vendor or substitute process. Ask the business office: "What do you need from me to be set up as a vendor?" (usually a W-9, proof of insurance and clearances).

3. Walk-in introduction (30 seconds)

Bring flyers and business cards. Go mid-morning Tuesday to Thursday, not Monday morning or lunch.

"Hi! I'm Ashley, I live right in [town]. I just started a local business called Your Backup Plan. Basically, when a business is short-handed (someone calls off, someone's on leave, or there's a project nobody has time for), I come in and cover it, for a few hours or a few weeks. No agency, no hiring. Could I leave a flyer for whoever handles the office? And is there a best person or email to follow up with?"

Write down the manager's name. Follow up by email within 2 days.

4. Follow-up (1–2 weeks later)

Subject: Quick follow-up, Your Backup Plan

Hi [Name],

Just a quick follow-up from when I stopped by [last week]. No need to reply. I just wanted my contact info to be easy to find the next time someone is out or a project piles up.

 412-401-3208 (call or text, including short notice)

Thanks, and have a great week! Ashley

5. Text to friends and family (share request)

Hi! I just launched my new business, Your Backup Plan 💡❤️ If you know any business owners, office managers, teachers/school staff or busy families who could use an extra set of hands, would you share my post or pass along my number? 412-401-3208. It means the world. Thank you!!

6. After the job: thank you + review request

Hi [Name]! Thank you so much for having me in this week. I really enjoyed helping out. If you were happy with my work, would you mind leaving a quick Google review? It helps other local businesses find me: [Google review link]

And please keep my number handy for next time! ❤️ Ashley

Get the review link from Google Business Profile → "Ask for reviews."

7. Referral thank-you

Thank you so much for referring [Name] to me! Referrals are the biggest compliment and the lifeblood of a small business. ❤️

Consider a small thank-you, such as a coffee gift card or one free hour of help, for referrals that turn into booked work.

8. Answering "What do you charge?"

"It depends on the kind of work. For most business and office help, it's $[rate] an hour with a [3]-hour minimum, and I'm happy to give you a flat quote for a project. Tell me a little about what you need and I'll give you an exact number."

See the Pricing Guide for recommended rates.

First 90 Days Launch Plan

Goal: 3–5 repeat clients who call her whenever they're short-handed. One good office client can easily be worth several thousand dollars a year.

Week 1: Get set up

- ☐ Create the Gmail `yourbackupplan.ashley@gmail.com` (if not done) and a Google Voice number (optional: keeps the business line separate from her personal cell)
- ☐ Facebook business page (the Ready-to-Post Copy section #1), with the flyer as the cover image
- ☐ Google Business Profile (the Ready-to-Post Copy section #4). Google verification can take a few days, so start early
- ☐ Put the website online (see the website setup steps)
- ☐ Order business cards (Vistaprint or a local print shop; about $20–30 for 250). Card text is at the bottom of this file
- ☐ Print 50 flyers
- ☐ Open a separate checking account for the business (see the Business Setup Checklist)

Week 2: Launch

- ☐ Ashley posts her personal launch story + flyer
- ☐ Share to the business page, pin post #3
- ☐ Text 20–30 close friends and family asking them to share (the Outreach Scripts section #5)
- ☐ Post on Nextdoor and 3–5 local Facebook groups (following group rules)
- ☐ LinkedIn update

Weeks 3–4: Direct outreach

- ☐ List 40 local targets (offices, schools, churches, shops) within about 20 minutes of home
- ☐ Email or walk in to 10 per week
- ☐ Email former school colleagues, especially office staff at other buildings and districts
- ☐ Join the local chamber: South Hills Chamber of Commerce or Washington County Chamber of Commerce. Their networking events are full of small-business owners who are exactly her customers
- ☐ Ask the local library, coffee shops and community centers if she can pin a flyer

Month 2: Deliver and gather proof

- ☐ Every job: send the thank-you and review request (the Outreach Scripts section #6)

- ☐ Goal: 5 Google reviews
- ☐ Follow up with everyone contacted in weeks 3–4
- ☐ Post 2–3 times a week on Facebook (ideas in the Ready-to-Post Copy section)
- ☐ Track every lead in a simple spreadsheet: name, business, date contacted, follow-up date, result

Month 3: Build repeat business

- ☐ Check in with past clients: "Anything coming up I can help with?"
- ☐ Offer a "backup on call" plan to 1–2 favorite clients (see the Pricing Guide)
- ☐ Look at what's working (where did clients come from?) and do more of that
- ☐ Plan for seasonal peaks: tax season (Jan–Apr) for accountants, back-to-school (Aug), holidays (Nov–Dec) for retail and events

Business Setup Checklist (Pennsylvania)

A plain-English list of what to set up to run Your Backup Plan legally and cleanly. Costs are approximate. This is general guidance, not legal or tax advice. A one-time meeting with a local CPA or tax preparer (~$150–300) to confirm the setup is money well spent.

1. Business structure: pick one

Option	Cost	Good for
Sole proprietor + fictitious name	$70 filing + ~$100–250 to publish the notice in two newspapers	Cheapest, fastest way to start. Taxes flow through her personal return
Single-member LLC named "Your Backup Plan LLC"	$125 filing + $7 annual report	Separates business and personal liability. Looks more established to businesses and schools. Same pass-through taxes

Recommendation: start as an LLC. It costs about the same as a sole proprietorship with a fictitious name (because the fictitious name also has to be published in newspapers), protects her personal assets if something goes wrong at a client's site, and makes vendor setup with schools and companies smoother.

- ☐ Check name availability: Pennsylvania Business Search (file.dos.pa.gov)
- ☐ File a Certificate of Organization online with the PA Department of State (file.dos.pa.gov), $125
- ☐ File the PA annual report each year ($7)
- ☐ (If staying a sole proprietor instead: register the fictitious name "Your Backup Plan", $70, and publish the notice as required.)

2. Tax IDs

- ☐ EIN (free, 10 minutes) at irs.gov. Only use irs.gov. Sites that charge for this are unnecessary. Use the EIN on W-9s instead of her Social Security number
- ☐ PA business tax registration (free) on myPATH (mypath.pa.gov). Ask whether her services need a sales tax license. Note: Pennsylvania taxes "help supply services" (temporary staffing where the worker is on the supplier's payroll but supervised by the client). A single owner doing her own work, directing how she does it, is usually treated differently. Confirm with the PA Department of Revenue or a CPA before the first invoice.
- ☐ Local taxes: register with her municipality's earned income tax collector (in the South Hills and Washington County this is usually Jordan Tax Service or Keystone Collections Group). Ask whether her town has a business privilege / mercantile tax or requires a business license

3. Money

- ☐ Separate business checking account (many local banks and credit unions have free small-business accounts). Every business dollar in and out goes through it
- ☐ A tax savings account: move 25–30% of every payment there immediately
- ☐ Quarterly estimated taxes (federal via IRS Direct Pay, PA via myPATH): due April 15, June 15, September 15, January 15
- ☐ Track expenses (mileage log, phone, supplies, insurance, marketing, business share of internet). The free Stride or Everlance apps log mileage automatically
- ☐ Every business client paying her $2,000+ in a year (2026 threshold) will ask for a W-9 and send her a 1099-NEC. Keep her own records regardless

Tax quick reference (2026, approximate):

- Self-employment tax: 15.3% on ~92% of net profit (Social Security + Medicare, both halves)
- Federal income tax: depends on household bracket. A 20% qualified business income deduction usually applies
- PA personal income tax: 3.07%
- Local earned income tax: ~1–2% depending on municipality
- Retirement: a SEP-IRA or Solo 401(k) lets her save for retirement and cut taxes. Worth asking the CPA about in year one

4. Insurance

- ☐ General liability insurance (~$300–600/yr for a one-person admin/office service). Many businesses and every school will ask for a certificate of insurance. Get quotes from Next, Hiscox, The Hartford, or a local independent agent
- ☐ Consider professional liability (E&O) if handling records or bookkeeping-type data
- ☐ Consider a fidelity / janitorial-type bond (~$100–200/yr) if doing personal-assistant work in clients' homes. It reassures families
- ☐ Tell her auto insurer she drives for business (errands, supply runs). Personal policies may not cover business use

5. Clearances (for schools, youth organizations, churches)

Pennsylvania requires these for anyone with direct contact with children. Renew every 5 years. If she has current ones from the high school, check the dates and keep copies:

- ☐ PA State Police criminal history (Act 34), online, about $22
- ☐ PA Child Abuse History (Act 151), online, about $13
- ☐ FBI fingerprint (Act 114), through IdentoGO, about $25
- ☐ Mandated reporter training (Act 126 for schools), free online

- ☐ Schools may also require the Act 168 employment history form and a TB test. Ask each district's business office

6. Paperwork to have ready

- ☐ W-9 filled out with the EIN (PDF on hand to email)
- ☐ Certificate of insurance (PDF)
- ☐ Clearances (PDF)
- ☐ Service agreement (the Service Agreement)
- ☐ Invoice template with the business name and contact info, invoice number, dates and hours worked, payment terms and accepted payment methods

7. Stay an independent business (not an employee)

To keep things clean for both her and her clients:

- Invoice as Your Backup Plan. Don't go on a client's payroll
- Serve multiple clients and market to the public (the website and Facebook page help show this)
- Set her own rates, use her own phone and laptop where possible, and control how the work gets done
- Use a simple written agreement for every client (even one page)

8. Online presence

- ☐ Buy a domain, about $12–20/yr. Suggestions to check: yourbackupplanpgh.com, yourbackupplanpa.com, yourbackupplan.co (check availability at Cloudflare, Porkbun or Namecheap)
- ☐ Publish the website (see the website setup steps)
- ☐ Optional: a professional email like ashley@yourbackupplanpgh.com through Google Workspace (~$7/mo) or free email forwarding through the domain registrar

Estimated startup budget

Item	Low	Typical
LLC filing	$125	$125
Insurance (first year)	$300	$500
Clearances (if needed)	$0	$60
Business cards + flyers	$30	$75
Domain	$12	$20
Website hosting	$0	$0
Chamber of commerce membership (optional)	$0	$250
CPA consult (optional)	$0	$200
Total	~$470	~$1,230

Service Agreement Template

A simple one-page agreement to use with every client. Copy it into a Google Doc, fill in the brackets, and have both people sign (a typed name in an email reply saying "I agree" works for small jobs). Have a local attorney review it once before regular use. Many offer flat-fee small-business document reviews.
